Neuro-linguistic programming (NLP) is an approach to communication, personal development, and psychotherapy created by Richard Bandler and John Grinder in California, United States in the 1970s. NLP's creators claim there is a connection between neurological processes (neuro-), language (linguistic) and behavioral patterns learned through experience (programming), and that these can be changed ...

Please refer to Korean Listening Exercise - Topic Particle 은/는 for the audio recording of the sentences found in this lesson. Particles are functional words that do not have any meaning in themselves. They are like helpers in that they are attached to the end of nouns to indicate what that noun is and how it functions in a sentence.

Abstract. We use a unique administrative dataset of over 10,000 taxi drivers in Singapore to study the labor supply decisions of these drivers. Our results indicate that both intra-day and across days, cab drivers deviate from the neoclassical economic model and that their labor supply is affected by a reference level of income.
