Open-air markets are where the transactions take place in geographically well defined open-air areas. For the purposes of this research brief, open-air drug dealing covers all types of illegal drug transactions that physically take place in open-air.

Risk Factors of Drug Dealing in Open Air Markets

Open-air surveillance is increasingly employed by metropolitan jurisdictions and by homeland security agencies. Focusing on legitimate law enforcement applications, this book provides a comprehensive survey of open-air surveillance technology and is also a practical guide to the planning, implementation, and maintenance of such systems.

The Department of Environmental Protection regulation on Open Burning, 310 CMR 7.07, requires that open air burning take place at least 75 feet from a structure. Because the DEP regulation provides for a higher standard of safety, it prevails (527 CMR 1.00 § 1.3.3.3). For additional information on open burning, please visit our web page at
