politics without vision thinking pdf

In the words of Hannah Arendt, the state of political thought in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries has left us effectively "thinking without a banister." Politics without Vision takes up the thought of seven influential thinkers, each of whom attempted to construct a political solution to this problem: Nietzsche, Weber, Freud, Lenin ...

Politics without Vision echoes some of these older claims through a discussion of Nietzsche's engagement with Greek tragedy: "It is the spirit of music that makes tragedy possible that is at the source of what one may call, even and especially in Nietzsche, the democratic element of Nietzsche's political thinking" (86). The experience of music ...
